This fact alone doesn't mean that every male shooter we've ever seen is a homicidal maniac with access to a rocket launcher and a machete. Of course, if that were the case, the problem would be huge. The problem isn't that gun violence affects men in general. The problem is that, in the United States, men commit 80 percent of gun homicide deaths, compared to women. And those two demographics, compared, together account for roughly half of all gun homicide deaths between the ages 1 week Add to cart..
